19. Audited Statements for the last three years

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Governors of International Management Institute

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of International Management Institute ("the Institute"), a society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860, which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2020, and the Income and Expenditure Account for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Institute as at March 31, 2020, and of its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with the Accounting Standards issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) issued by ICAI. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Institute in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the aforesaid Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Institute's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Institute or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Institute's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

S.R. BATLIBOI & ASSOCIATES LLP

Chartered Accountants

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the institute's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Society's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Society to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Other Matter

This report is furnished solely for use in preparing the Income tax return of the Institute. It is not to be used for any other purpose, or referred to in any other document, or distributed to anyone other than the Income-tax authorities.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- * Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- * Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the institute's internal control.
- * Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- * Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Society's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Society to cease to continue as a going concern.
- * Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

20. Best Practices adopted

IMI Bhubaneswar has a rich resource pool of quality full time members who have contributed towards adoption of various unique practices in order to improve the quality of education at IMI and make the students industry-ready. In order to facilitate improvement in teaching and learning, following key initiatives have been taken.

1. In a major revamp of programme curriculum, all core courses offered to PGDM students have been converted into two credit courses that require 20 hours of classroom interaction. A course - restructuring committee was constituted comprising of faculty members. This committee took into consideration the AICTE criteria for core and elective courses credit requirements. Accordingly, it recommended optimization of credits for core courses. Subsequently the matter was deliberated upon in the Faculty Council and approved upon. Feedback was also sought from the experts during the curriculum revision meetings held at Area level. All these courses were earlier of 3 credit requiring 30 hours of class-room interaction. The major objective behind this was to provide more opportunity to students to engage in self-learning. A greater thrust was laid on self-preparation.
2. In order to provide students with deeper knowledge on emerging streams, Information Management & Marketing Analytics was created as a sub-area to offer all analytics related functional courses such as Marketing Analytics, Financial Analytics, HR Analytics, Data visualization, Web and social media analytics etc. In keeping with this new format, Business Analytics was converted into a core course that is not being taught before the students proceed for summer internship. This was done to provide students with greater analytical skills prior to their industry exposure during summer internship.
3. Marketing Strategy has been introduced in the 3rd Trimester. It is being taught using Markstrat simulation. The students are divided into different teams and they execute their marketing strategies on the simulation platform. The effectiveness of their strategy is reflected in the share prices of the company. The group with the highest share price wins the game at the end of the term. Parallely, students are debriefed by the faculty regarding their strategies and its impact on share prices. This hands-on training to students is aimed at getting the student market-ready before they venture out for their summer internship.
4. For Finance area, Bloomberg terminals and PROWESS database have been installed in the library so that students can have ready access to financial data. Accordingly, the Finance courses have been modified so as to provide an opportunity to students to use real-time data for their financial decisions.
5. The institution has a laid down policy of permitting 20% of total sessions in every course to be taught by experts from corporate and academia. This enables importing of important industry insight and exposes the students to some real-world dilemmas.
