Course Introduction: With the emergence of new economic policy and restructuring of industry, Human Resource Development has become an important function. In the current competitive economy, those organizations that develop their employee's skills and knowledge will survive and progress. Training and development is one of the ways to achieve this objective. This course aims to help students acquire the knowledge required for identification of training needs, various training methodologies, training tools and evaluating the effectiveness of the training programmes. The emphasis would also be on the contemporary learning in the area.

Course Objectives: Upon completion of this course, the students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate how HRD fits into the strategic planning process.
2. Show the important relationship between organizational development (OD) practitioners and trainers.
3. Provide an overarching model of training process and discuss how each phase connects and contributes to achieving training objectives.
4. Provide a step-by-step process for developing learning objectives.
5. Integrate learning and design theory into the creation of training programs.
6. Use a contingency approach for each training process, rather than a "one best way".

Course Pedagogy: It will be a judicious mix of lectures, case analysis & discussion, article reviews, assignments & presentations by the students.
